

DANGER

Dingoes roam this area

Who is watching your children? You should be.

Dingoes can become excited by children's movements. Each small oversight makes dingoes less wary.

Be dingo-safe. Look after your children.

- Children cannot be relied upon to know or remember what to do if threatened by dingoes.
- Always stay very close (within arm's reach) to your children, even small teenagers.
- Dingoes may be closer than you think. They can become excited by children's movements and can move quickly.
- If a dingo approaches, stand tall and still, stay calm and do not run.

Be dingo-safe

It is an offence to feed or make food available to a dingo, or intentionally attract or disturb dingoes. Penalties apply.
